with Broadway Talent.

"Ben" Reitman, who is "King of the Hoboes," has set all his subjects guessing, for whoever thought he would con ider anything could come out of Broadway good enough for the Bowery? Often on Sunday afternoons he has gathered his clans together at the Lyceum, in East th street, just off the Bowery, and told disparaging tones of the froth and bubbles of the Great White Way. let what did he do last week but enter into a conspiracy with Hattie Williams Mississippi Valley east to the Atlantic coast. and Richard Carle to bring the "Girl from Montmartre" to the familiar meeting place and show King "Ben's" sublects what a Broadway show was like! They actually did it yesterday afternoon. They called it an "entertainment of the unemployed," and they had regular tickets, just like you buy at the box offices on Broadway. On Saturday night King "Ben" and his friend, that other potentate of the Bowry, "Chuck" Connors, together with Miss Williams and Mr. Carle, visited all the places where unemployed men were likely to be, and gave out the tickets. Yesterday afternoon all the park benches were empty, and a steady stream moved along the Bowery and turned into East 4th street. R. J. Novskovitch, deputy consul at Belgrade, Servia. In a report to the Department of State regarding the cinematose of State regarding the c takable signs of the local tailor's efforts to imitate American styles.

These facts, and the unprecedented demand at the stores here for hats, boots and other wearing apparel of the kind in vogue in the United States, make one seek the reason for this newly-evinced taste for things American; and investigation seems to point to the cinematograph show, especially the production of moving pictures depicting life and events in the United States, as the main factor in creating this demand for American goods.

the select country home park, A fine home was sold to Roy Orgain, located on a high crest overlooking

The trip through charming country by The new Mountain Lakes express station in the heart of the property, is costing over $41,000. It will be completed within the next two weeks, thus making available three stations for the convenience of Mountain Lakes commuters. Fine trolley service is maintained through the property, running to the station and to nearby towns.

EXAMINATION DATE CHANGED

Civil Service Board Overlooked That Sept. 21 Was Yom Kippur.

Recently it was announced that the State Civil Service Board had set September 21 as the date for examinations. That day happens to be Yom Kippur, or Day of Atonement. It was pointed out by Hebrews that one of their race could participate in the examinations if held on September 21. A committee, consisting of Bernard Rabbino, of the Legal Aid Society, and Commissioner Jacob Katz, drew the attention of the Governor to the matter, and he promised to use his influence in having another date set. The state board has decided to fix ar other date after the Jewish holldays which will give the Jews an equal chance with the non-Jewish candidates. Members of the state board declare they over looked the fact that September 21 was the Jewish Yom Kippur.
